

Andrew Wiele, M.D.

Hometown: Saint Louis, Missouri

Undergraduate: Wheaton College

Medical School: Kansas City University of Medicine and Biosciences

Residency: Indiana University

What are your career goals?

To be an academic oncologist where I spend my time caring for patients, teaching fellows and residents, and conducting clinical trials.

Why did you choose MD Anderson?

The fellowship program genuinely cares about your career interests and delivers with the opportunities and resources for you to achieve whatever you want.

How has MD Anderson helped you in achieving your goals?

It is still early, but even after only a few months I have had the clinical exposure, access to mentors, and research opportunities needed to set the groundwork for my career goals.

What do you like best about MD Anderson's fellowship program?

The faculty are incredible! I am impressed every day by the integrity and passion of the faculty and their desire to care for patients, advance the field of oncology, and educate the next generation.

What do you like about living in Houston?

It is a large city with plenty to do at a reasonable cost of living. Oh, and not having snow during the winter is nice.

What has surprised you most about living in Houston?

I have been pleasantly surprised by the amount of green space! Plenty of parks, trails for running and biking, and some very solid golf courses.

What do you like to do outside of medicine?

Spending time with my wife, spending time outdoors, hiking, biking, basketball, tennis, and golf; eating BBQ and sipping Bourbon.