Clinical Fellow in Leukemia
MD Anderson Cancer Center Fellowship Program
2021 - 2022

Alexandre Bazinet, MDCM, FRCPC is a first year Fellow in The Leukemia Fellowship Program at The University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center, Department of Leukemia. He plans to become an expert in the management of acute leukemias, myelodysplastic syndromes, and myeloproliferative neoplasms. He wishes to pursue research to improve treatments for patients with these disorders.

Dr. Bazinet joined the Department of Leukemia in July 2021 as a fellow. He obtained his MDCM from McGill University, Montreal, Canada in 2014 (Dean's Honour List).

Dr. Bazinet completed his residency training at McGill University. He served as co-chief resident during his hematology residency.

Prior to joining the Leukemia fellowship program, Dr. Bazinet completed the Clinician Investigator Program at McGill University in 2021. He is currently writing his master's thesis in Experimental Medicine. His research is focused on using flow cytometry and genomics to better understand the pathophysiology of leukemias.

Dr. Bazinet is fluent in French. He enjoys reading and cooking.
