

John Calhoun is moving on...

John Calhoun, ICCI Project Consultant and Enhanced Surgical Recovery Program (ESRP) lead, left The University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center on March 3, 2017.

A Lean Six Sigma Master black belt, John brought 25 years of experience from NASA to MD Anderson and the Institute for Cancer Care Innovation (ICCI) to lead ESRP. He helped develop teams across various departments to collaboratively implement ESRP across 9 surgical disciplines resulting in decreased pain, lengths of stays, and opioid usage for ESRP pathway patients.

ICCI anticipates achieving even greater perioperative benefits for patients as the team continues the work set forth by John and hopes to expand the ESRP initiative across MD Anderson to include Medical Oncology and Stem Cell Transplant.

We wish John the best and thank him for a job well done while at MD Anderson.
