2017 Oncologic Emergency Medicine Conference

Focus Emergency medicine physicians contend with multiple patient care modalities. Treating cancer patients in this setting requires critical decisions that involve certain supportive care methods that alleviate pain and other symptoms as well as an understanding of the acute medical challenges cancer patients encounter. This conference aims to provide the participants current information from experts in the emerging field of oncologic emergency medicine which will enable them to make effective choices when treating patients in a non-oncology based emergency center (e.g. hospital, academic center, community based emergency center, etc.).

Educational Objectives

After attending the conference, participants should be able to:

- Identify emergent medical conditions that occur in cancer patients and apply best practices to maximize quality of care within an emergency medicine environment (Knowledge, Competence, Performance, Patient Outcomes);
- Assess patient health status in cancer patients to provide a better assessment and treatment plan to improve care for those who suffer with comorbid conditions (Knowledge, Competence, Performance);
- Offer options to implement supportive treatment for cancer patients that experience acute renal failure, hyperkalemia, symptom management, pulmonary toxicities and effusion (Knowledge, Competence);
- Integrate palliative care skills into the framework of emergency medicine in order to render high level care to patients with advanced illnesses, such as cancer (Knowledge, Competence, Performance, Patient Outcomes);
- Identify complications of stem cell transplant in patients coming to the emergency medicine center, specifically GVHD, and provide improved care to these patients (Knowledge, Competence, Performance, Patient Outcomes);
- Utilize the expertise of the interventional radiologist to address specific emergent issues in the oncologic patient (Knowledge, Competence).

Educational Methods

- Lecture/Didactic
- Case Study
- Audience Response System
- Poster Session
- Question and Answer Sessions
- Poster Presentations

Target Audience

This conference should be of value to emergency medicine clinicians, faculty, trainees, researchers, research staff, mid-level providers, medical students, and other healthcare professionals.

Evaluation

A course evaluation form will provide participants with the opportunity to comment on the value of the program content to their practice decisions, performance improvement activities, or possible impact on patient health status. Participants will also have the opportunity to comment on any perceived commercial bias in the presentations as well as to identify future educational topics.

Accreditation/ Credit Designation

The 2017 Oncologic Emergency Medicine Conference has been approved by the American College of Emergency Physicians for a maximum of 11.50 hours of ACEP Category 1 Credit.

Pharmacists

If you are licensed in the state of Texas, you may now use CME credits toward your relicensure.

CME Certificates and Attendance Verification Certificates

Certificates awarding AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ or certificates documenting attendance will be distributed to participants as they depart the conference. To obtain a CME certificate, physicians must submit a completed evaluation questionnaire and a CME Verification Form.

Upon request, a record of attendance (certificate) will be provided on-site to other healthcare professionals for requesting credits in accordance with state nursing boards, specialty societies, or other professional associations.

MD Anderson complies with the Physician Payments Sunshine Act as part of the Affordable Care Act (ACA). Accordingly, we may be required to collect information on transfer of value provided to any covered recipient under the ACA.

Call for Abstracts

Deadline for Abstract Submission is November 11, 2016

The 2017 Oncologic Emergency Medicine Conference invites the submission of abstracts regarding clinical care or best practices in an emergency care setting. The goal is to provide the audience an opportunity to collaborate and stimulate discussions specifically on how an emergency center delivers quality patient care whether in an academic, hospital or community based setting. The type of research can be qualitative or quantitative and have a focus in public health, health services, epidemiology, or public policy. Ideally there should be a focus on the care of the cancer patient in an emergency room setting but work in areas commonly encountered in oncological patients such as sepsis, pain, electrolyte imbalances, symptom management, and palliative care measures are encouraged.

Authors may submit abstracts of completed work, work in progress, or work elsewhere within the past 12 months.

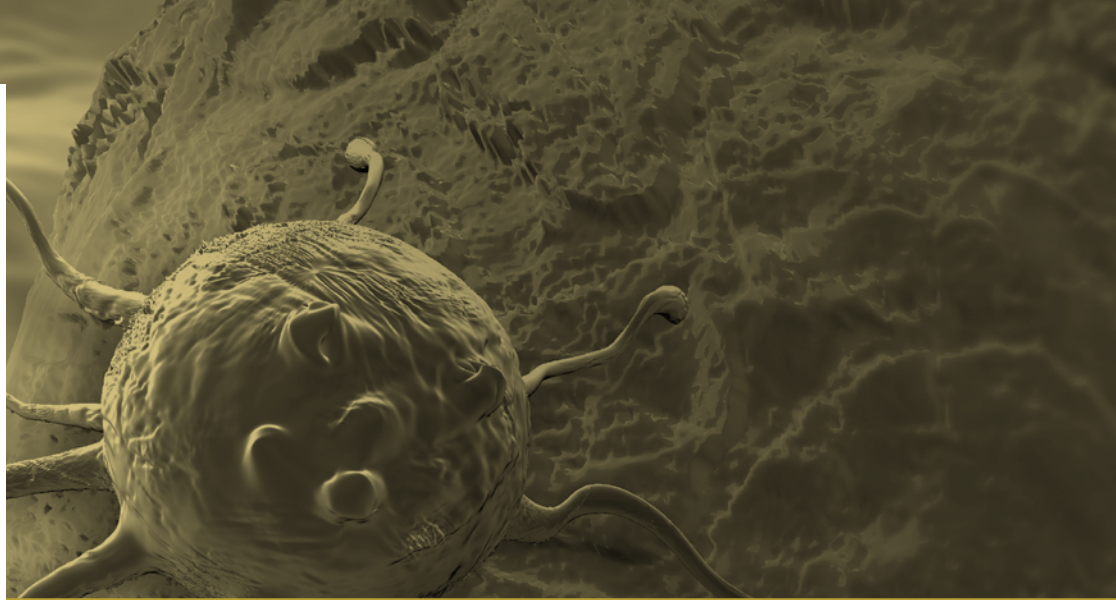

Abstract Submission Instructions:

Abstracts will only be accepted electronically and should be uploaded to: <http://tinyurl.com/m844cp3>.

The deadline for receipt of abstracts is 11:59 PM CST on November 11, 2016. Notification of acceptance for poster presentations will be acknowledged by e-mail by December 1, 2016.

Abstract Formatting Instructions:

Limit abstracts to one page, type in 12-point Times New Roman font, single spaced with one-inch margins, and left justified. Organize the abstract into: Background, Methods, Results, and Conclusions. Define all abbreviations. Include the abstract title, full names, and institutional affiliations of all authors, and e-mail address of the corresponding author at the top of the abstract. Underline the name of the presenting author. Abstracts must not contain copyrighted material unless permission has been obtained by the author/publisher.
