

Every patient's imaging is interpreted by a fellowship-trained breast radiologist. This higher level of expertise means patients receive precise, accurate results they can trust.

Breast Imaging

At MD Anderson Cancer Center, our Breast Imaging Team consists of subspecialized radiologists and technologists who have extensive training in performing mammograms and interpreting images of the breast. This expertise results in patients receiving an accurate diagnosis and prognosis, with fewer scans.

When a patient has an abnormal mammogram result, we have supportive oncology nurse navigators to explain next step options, coordinate expedited appointments with our breast oncology teams and communicate with the referring provider office.

Cancer screening and services available:

- Screening and diagnostic mammography with 3-D Tomosynthesis
- Breast ultrasound
- Breast biopsy, including stereotactic, ultrasound and MRI
- Breast MRI
- Contrast-enhanced mammography (CEM) with biopsy
- Molecular breast imaging
- Bone densitometry (DXA)
